This week we were joined by Galway 2020 photographer Cormac MacMahon. Cormac kindly photographed all our work and spoke with the participants about their creations.

Our project is coming to an end for this year, however we will continue it in 2019.

Sitting down in groups and mastering the skills of sewing has been extremely enjoyable and we have enhanced our motor skills, especially our hand-eye-coordination.

The attention to detail that our planets require has encouraged our coordination. This project has required a lot of creativity, which the participants have illustrated in their planets.

We have become familiar with the materials particularly in terms of their suitability and workability.

Our knowledge has increased in terms of sewing different stitches. We are now using running, basting, and slip stitching as we construct our planets by hand with our needles and thread.

Loretta adding some colour to her planet

We are learning sew many skills from this project☺

Bridget has decided to add some zips to her planet to add texture.

Christina decided to add some colour to her planet, I hope that's not your school jumper☺

Leny perfecting her stitching.

Josephine and Marcella discussing ideas to enhance Josephine's planet.

John, Jackie, Aisling, Bridget & Atom hard at work.

Mary's planet is growing in size and shape.

Next week, the participants are bringing in some traditional christmas food from around the world. We are all looking forward to sampling some of the seasonal delicacies that the participants make!
